Seahorses emerge from swirls to hang out in a creative tide on the Coast Highway.

2. Jackie Bond

Follow Your Dream

The artist's share of the proceeds will be donated to the 101 Artists' Colony.

3. Carolyn Cope

Sun's Surprise Peak at the End of a Dark Day

"June Gloom" all day when suddenly at the end of the day the sun broke thru in full regalia. Orange from top to bottom, reflecting off the ocean. God came through again with yet another masterpiece as seen from the balcony of McNeill House. God's Original Light Show Series is every afternoon around sunset. Check your local listings. Artist always present. Enjoying this view since 1950 – Carolyn Roy Cope

4. Dody Crawford

Leonor

Madre hermosa , matriarca de la familia, amar cuidador : usted es quien amamos y confianza. Nosotros nunca podemos agradecerle lo suficiente.

5. Francine Filsinger

Francine Filsinger is a published, international award-winning Fine Art Photographer. She is often found combing raw desertscapes, the wide reaches of the Pacific Ocean, or sitting for hours with an intriguing face, facade or flower. Her art may be found in fine art publications, private and museum collections, and is regularly exhibited in fine art galleries.

6. Julie Fitch

On My Way to Monterey

I am a modern impressionist painter. I paint in the plein air tradition for most of my paintings. I love the beauty of the California landscape, and capturing the essence of our beautiful state in a painting. I also paint in the studio, painting still life's and larger studio works from my plein air pieces. Thank you for viewing my artwork.

7. Michelle Gonzalez

My banner this year is of the Museum of Man in Balboa Park. We are celebrating the 100 year anniversary in 2015. There will be many special activities in the park throughout the year. My studio is in Spanish village, number 6. I am proud to be part of the celebration of San Diego's history! Life is good!

11. Ingrid Hoffmeister

I believe everyone has a creative spirit. Painting is just one way to express this manifestation. Once we leave our judge behind, the creative instinct can be freed to fly like the dream that lives in the realm of the unconscious. To be authentic is a gift connected to our basic instincts. The dog understands this element. That is why I have chosen to paint this picture.

8. Jenessa Goodman

Jenessa is a NYC ex-pat who relocated to Encinitas in 2011. Years of traveling and living in a variety of locales have colored the lens through which she views life. Her imagery highlights the abstract in nature, and the esoteric within the familiar. Jenessa attended The School of the Art Institute of Chicago, and holds a BFA degree from The San Francisco Art Institute.

12. Carol Holder

Took a Wrong Turn

I have an attachment to these charming creatures. It is easy to imagine them with human characteristics. Like this Adelie who "took a wrong turn" and ended up here in Encinitas. Thank you Arts Alive for allowing him to visit for a while.

9. Michelle Hauswirth

Wild Orchids: Hanging Around

Michelle Hauswirth is a single mom pursuing her artistic dreams. "Wild Orchids" is a series she began in 2012. The concept of anthropomorphism and the beauty, diversity, and humor of orchids fuel the inspiration for this series. To see more of Michelle's art or to inquire about commissions, visit www.michellehauswirth.com.

13. Sara Hollingsworth

Sense of Direction

May 2015 bring on new exciting adventures on paths less traveled. No concern needed on direction, only the gain of experience on the journey.

10. Cutter Hays

This was inspired by the most beautiful woman in the world, who happens to love Hawaii. It was done in acrylics with some reference, and took about a week to do working a few hours a day. The colors are bright. It would have been better done as an oil painting, but I had to work with what would stick to the vinyl banner.

14. Shannon Martin

Water Women

All girls dream of being a mermaid. What if you could put your flippers on and become one as you swim deeper into the sea? This painting was inspired by many fun summer days spent swimming, surfing, and playing with friends at San Elijo beach. Contact: sjmartin6@gmail.com

15. Carole Mayne

Summer Daze

Carole and her family have lived in Leucadia 44 years. She has traveled the world, painting on location with her husband, Contractor and Avian photographer, Chris Mayne. Visit carolemayne.com to see her studio and plein air artwork. Locally, her work can be seen in Lotus Cafe and Self Realization Fellowship.

16. Kathleen McCord

Gitana del Mar (Sea Gypsy)

This painting represents my two passions:

1. Flamenco music and dancing
2. The ocean and a few of its fabulous creatures

17. Micaela Moriarty

Opposites

Opposites is inspired by the beauty of the miniature world around us and my own need to slow down and appreciate the little things. To help me remember that it's all my different sides and all the small details of life that are what make me who I am today.

18. Olivenhain Pioneer School

Inspired by Color

Yasi Erwin, Siena Watson, and Rebecca Lutz are three 6th grade students from Olivenhain Pioneer Elementary who love to paint. Pastels make them feel positive and happy and they hope their composition makes all those who see it feel the same.

19. Pario Art

Sea House

My painting is also a name and logo for a home. Along with the painting, the winning bidder will get a digital file so that you can use the logo on stationary, cups/glasses, embroidery, stickers, stamps, clothing, etc. Give your home identity while contributing to local arts! For more, and to see the logo, see Pario Art at www.Pario.org.

20. Ned Porter

My Donna Surfs

This is my take on the Encinitas staple, The Surfing Madonna. Spray paint and acrylic.

21. Helaina Rain

Canine Aquatic

Helaina Rain is an aspiring artist located locally in Cardiff, California. Her inspirations stem from her daily life and her interactions with the people around her. She hopes to further her education as a growing artist in all fields as she continues her schooling at San Dieguito Academy.

22. Jennifer Richards

Encinitas Grown - The Bee Banner

Jennifer's banner pays tribute to bees – mighty pollinators, phenomenal hexagonal architects, and crafters of artisanal honey. They are central to so much that is Encinitas Grown, and our well-being is connected to their well-being, so let's be good to them. Jennifer Richards' oil paintings are often inspired by the natural serenity of Southern California.

23. Margi Saccomanno

At What Cost

Our wild elephant population is predicted to be extinct in ten years. The two chief purchasers of illegal ivory are first China, followed closely by the USA. The new methods of slaughter are AK47s and grenades. These gentle giants don't have a chance. Our grandchildren will only experience these special creatures in captivity. For no other reason but monetary gain. At what cost?

27. Diane Stacey

{Besides saying nothing, words can never express the true feeling of art...}

A Dancer, known as an "Apsara"
She comes to Encinitas from a long way off
Sent to inspire the Holy Warriors of Truth,
Light and Love... a dance of spirit that all can do
Waves of Bliss, leaves of intoxication...
I bow to you

24. Judy Salinsky

Yogi Surf Crossing

Yogi Surf Crossing is a design of brilliant color that represents the iconic surf break and spiritual mecca that draws tens of thousands of visitors each year to Encinitas.

25. Essenz Schenker

California Dreamin'

As an artist, my top three inspirations are love, nature, and music. This banner is a perfect blend of just that. It illustrates my love for where we live with poppy flowers representing the dazzling nature surrounding us, and the lyrics from the groovy song California Dreamin' by The Mamas and The Papas.

*Fly Me to the Moon... from the series
The Acme Ball Company... from the series Art for the Common Dog*

These chronicles are an attempt to counter the avalanche of nightmares we all face daily – Ebola, terrorism... etc., etc. I'm just trying to lighten it up a little.

32. Linda Volz

Street Patrol

Walking down the street I turned west, and in the underpass to 101, I saw this joyous bulldog riding on his skateboard.
According to his master, when he was not on it, he was staring at it. He represents to me the dedicated, free spirit of our unique community.

34. Laura K. Woodward

Serenity

One of my favorite inspirational spots at San Diego Botanical Garden is the lily pond. One day while enjoying its beauty and tranquility, a turtle slowly climbed out of the water, lifting its head to bask in the warm sun, joining me in my serenity.

36. Victoria Bearden

Praise to White Tara

Tibetan Goddess White Tara symbolizes compassion, purity, healing, and beauty.
To me, she represents my healing wishes for the earth and all of her inhabitants.
Many Tara Blessings to all for 2015. Victoria Bearden is a local artist, and professional astrologer & psychic. Mystical women and Goddesses figure strongly in her artwork. This is her 5th year as an Arts Alive banner artist. Art website: vbearden.com;

38. Roger Chandler

Paradise

Paradise means a lot of things to a lot of different people... but, to a surfer, paradise is discovering perfect waves on tropical beaches with beautiful locals to share it with them.

Check out Chandler's paradise at www.artofparadise.com.

39. Bre Custodio

Moody Pacific

The sun is setting but the ocean is still very much awake. A wave of energy runs through her. She collides with a reef that lay resting just below the water's surface. The warm offshore winds collide with her chilly waters. The sky won't be outdone as the sun makes a dramatic exit. I invite you to find prints of my previous banners, as well as more fine art at www.createdbybre.com.

40. Christopher Dillman

VDUB101

A discovery of 'The Bus' along the Encinitas 101.

A fine arts major from the University of the Pacific, Christopher Dillman has painted his admiration for Arts Alive and North County San Diego since 2008. For Christopher's collection of work for Arts Alive, please visit: www.fullblend.com.

41. Don Doerfler

Endless Encinitas

Where else can you do some Yoga, Meditate, and drop in on a world-class wave – all from one parking lot? Welcome to Swami's!

42. Bobbi Duley

This year's banner was greatly influenced by my work as a graphic designer. An adaptation of a pattern by Dutch artist Eline Pellinkhof, it's an unconventional representation of the art of cross-stich embroidery.

{for Glen & Evelyn and their love of yellow roses}

43. Cheryl Ehlers

Reaching for the Stars This is a remake of original artwork that has represented and provided "hope, peace, and goodwill" for organizations worldwide. It is a symbol of "hope" for a cure for cancer, "world peace" and "goodwill," while empowering youth in Japan, Italy, Germany, and the USA. It is the cornerstone for The Stardust Arts youth art program, and remains a simple piece of art that relates to so many people. Cherylehlersart.com or Thestardustarts.com (760) 519-1551

44. Mary Fleener

Fleener has been writing and drawing underground comix since 1984. She also paints on black velvet, and works in clay. Inspirations are: Robert Crumb, Wifredo Lam, The Futurists, Robyn Hitchcock, Etta James, Rock and Roll and the color turquoise.

45. Stan Gafner

Abstract 1214.01 – Unification

Stan Gafner is a local artist and entrepreneur with family roots on the 101 dating back to the 1940s, including the giant avocado tree behind Surfy Surfy! Stan works with various media, ranging from paint to photography, and metal to fresh fruit artisan jams!

46. Stephen Frank Gary

Life is an ever changing landscape, not always easily explainable. I look toward the magical and positive, and try to reflect how I feel via the mechanism of art. My art can be found at Garyart.com.

47. May Hoegen

Mannies love to play, and at the same time, they are a massive joy to look at. Manatees are so dreamy. I will never forget the time I spent playing with them so sweet.

48. Bob Hord

A nice guy who draws.

49. Jim Hornung

[In collaboration with Benton Cosworth Worthington III]

Sign Language Scholars around the globe are attempting to document and preserve the diversity of human linguistic expressions. As languages die, established systems of learning and knowledge exchange can break down. Continued study of this is an ongoing project of Dr. Worthington and he appreciates the chance to make Encinitas aware of this.

50. Darlene Katz

Bravissimo!

The positioning of hands and feet, the tilt of the head and neck, the facial expression, posture, the effect of shadow and light – combined details create the unique movement of performance art. Painting one moment allows us to appreciate these details while preserving the experience inherent in the total performance. See more of my work: www.studiokatz.com.

51. Christopher Law

Angel of Hope

Audrey is an Angel of Hope silently praying to her Mother Earth. This earthly child reflected back is ever knowing and watching over with love.

52. Jim McConlogue

Surf Beacons

Jim's banner this year depicts the classic break at Beacons. As with Jim's previous banners, look for reproductions made as giclée prints. Jim is represented by the Leucadia Art Gallery and Corner Frame Shop and Wall Street Art In Framing in La Jolla. Call or order a print online at www.JimMcConlogue.com.

53. Patti McDuffie

Beacon's View

A native Southern Californian, Patti's love of the ocean and lagoons is reflected in her paintings. Favorite subjects include seascapes, landscapes, wildlife, shells and flowers. Patti taught art for 11 years at a local elementary school and is a preschool teacher who brings art of the masters to very young children. She believes that hands-on learning is key at any age.

Skywave

Dolphin swims the line, Deep ocean wind swelling up, Wingtips skim skywave.

I found the arcing curve of the wave in the graceful arch of a squash stem. The comfort of repetition and pattern flowed easily into familiar coastal forms. Emerging color deepened the seascape. Irresistible movement sways and swings through the painting. It made me laugh to paint it.

55. Martin Nasim

Jellies Tale The work of the emerging artist Martin Nasim is inspiring and moving. It's natural to fall in love with the vibrant and dynamic colors, the confident lines and the original details of his art. Passionate and imaginative, his creations bring beauty and joy to our life. The media he uses is inventive, diverse and unique. His animated, spirited and energetic paintings, drawings and surfboard designs have been admired and treasured by collectors worldwide.

56. Donn Angel Perez Lopez

ARCHITECTURALLY charged, the ART is energy in constant flux.

57. Karen Real-Athens

Endangered2Extinction Fine Art Paintings, Sculptures, Murals, Restoration. BFA in Fine Art Painting, Design Color Theory, Visual Communications, Printmaking, Photography. Artist in Ireland, Mexico, West Indies. Exhibited across USA with collectors worldwide. She combines acrylics, watercolor, pastels, ink, collages, vibrant colors and images from exotic places she has traveled to and lived. Canvas, wood and paper. Available for commissioned work. be.net/karenathens

58. Lisa Roche

Cat Nap

If we were all King of the Jungle in our dreams, we'd sleep 18 hours a day too! Lisa is an award-winning oil painter, residing in North County, and she is so excited to be back as part of the banner project after a one year hiatus! Lisa's paintings are found in private collections throughout the U.S., and she LOVES to fulfill commission requests, especially oil portraits! View her work / contact her at: www.gypsycreations.com / 760.889.2782

59. Julie Ann Stricklin

Nature's Sermon Through Abandoned Bones

You only have to look past decay, destruction and man made bones to see nature's restless desire to thrive. The natural process of life manages to take over the abandoned. Nature teaches through action. We just have to pay attention, look, listen and remove ego to understand nature's sermon.

60. Grace Swanson

Under the Sea

"There's nothing wrong with enjoying looking at the surface of the ocean itself, except that when you finally see what goes on underwater, you realize that you've been missing the whole point of the ocean. Staying on the surface all the time is like going to the circus and staring at the outside of the tent." – Dave Barry

61. Cris Weatherby

Cris has been painting and drawing for over 25 years. Her award-winning work in watercolor is held in many private collections and may currently be seen at the San Diego Watercolor Society and at www.crisweatherby.com. She teaches two weekly seminars in her private studio in Encinitas, as well as annual classes for the San Dieguito Art Guild. She is currently the workshop director for the San Diego Watercolor Society.

65. Billy Barnett

Inspired by nature and fueled by Mtn Dew. Billy has been creating artwork in various mediums his whole life. He's been tattooing for 20 years – 18 of them in North County San Diego. He's the owner and one of the artists at EVENTIDE TATTOO located in Cardiff. Come by next time yer at VG Donuts or Besta-Wan. Also, check out www.eventidetattoo.com.

64. Melina Antichevich Fischer

Plumeria

Melina works as an Art Therapist and Marriage and Family Therapist at Sharp Mesa Vista. She lives with her husband in Carlsbad, California. Her inspiration for this piece came from one of her recent travels to the island of Kauai. Melina loves art, traveling, the ocean, and enjoying God's creation.

66. Aaron Bravo

Poor Reception

Aaron Bravo is a San Diego native who enjoys playing in the ocean, drawing, painting and sewing. He can also be found playing guitar in his family band which includes his 4 year old daughter and 2 year old son. Aaron spends his nights in his garage/workshop painting, making, creating and dreaming. For more on Aaron please visit www.seapodcollective.com.

67. Alycia M. Drube

Kelp Forest

Alycia M. Drube is a local Interior Painting Artisan, painting private murals in the San Diego County coastal area. Inspired by the beauty of nature and the passion of Cardiff locals, she – with the help of her community – chose kelp as a vibrant representation of the easy flow in Cardiff.

71. Daniel Hernandez

Hi, my name is Daniel Hernandez and I make stuff! I have been a professional artist since the age of 12 when I sold my first drawings as the youngest member of the Ramona Art Guild. Born in San Diego, I am grateful to be creating fine art, murals and hand lettered signs. My website is: www.MakestuffSD.com.

68. Lila Fulton

Clown of the Sea

I enjoy the bounty the sea offers and the Dolphin is one of those amazing creatures that encourages us to laugh and be amazed at the same time. They seem to enjoy entertaining us with their curiosity. I first painted this for my granddaughter on a 48 x 30 canvas.

72. Chelsea Hogate

101 Coastals

There once were original locals
Who were creative and FRIENDLY and social
Their ways were inventive and hopeful
The founders of all that is noble
They were open to all that is soulful
Never arrogant or rude, never boastful
The way it once was for the 101 coastals

69. Karin Grow

Harry the Heron

A tribute to my dad who spent countless hours doing volunteer work for the San Elijo Lagoon Conservancy. His love and respect for nature has made a lasting impact on my family and all that were lucky enough to know him.

74. Chris Kepler

I am a local San Diego artist who has been painting for over 30 years. Recently, I have started getting back to my line drawing where I like playing with abstract forms and applying either recognizable shapes or figures within the forms.

75. Kids for Peace

[Hope Elementary Chapter, featuring Jennifer Hardy]

You make my heart sing!

Hope Kids for Peace dedicates this year's banner to our San Diego community. We hold you in our hearts as we create a Peaceful and Kind World.

79. Paint Encinitas

[In collaboration with Taylor Gallegos and Jax Meyers]

Public Art is the Flower of Society

When a plant is healthy and fully developed, flowers bloom. When a society is healthy and fully developed, public art is fostered and supported. Let's keep blossoming Encinitas!

76. Artie Mattson

Mid-Century Modern Encinitas

Welcome to the whimsical world of Artie Mattson. My art is in perpetual motion – a series of small human-like happenings spilling into each other, rolling until they become one drawing. View my works at staffmagazine.com/folios/artiemattson.

80. San Dieguito Academy High School

[Parent: Paola Gjata with 11th grader Evan Brownell, 10th graders Gabi Gjata and Natalie Shields]

Calla Lilies por Vida

This year we were inspired by Diego Rivera's passion and boldness. The artist's share of the proceeds will go to the San Dieguito Academy Foundation.

77. Mariah Mercado

Sunset Solution

Mariah Mercado is a freshman at Carlsbad High. She can often be found taking in the evening sunset while perched atop her board in the ocean. "Sunset Solution" displays a perfect day's end. Mariah plans to continue growing in her artistic abilities with hopes of one day illustrating children's books.

83. Tamara Totman

Ganesh is always overgenerous and copious. He reminds us that Universal Flow is a virtuous thing and that our needs are always met in this moment and the next. We need to silence our minds more and worry less about the “small” things... Just as the defined edges of our future are beyond us, so too are the boundaries of our past behind us. Where we came from is not relevant here, only the person we have become... Rest assured that we are protected and loved.

84. Michael Amorillo

Mystic Majestic

Mystic Majestic was a eucalyptus tree in Leucadia. I would see her every day on my daily walk to surf Grandview. I used to take photos of her as a source of inspiration. Majestic was taken down so I wanted to create something in her memory. This painting is what I imagine her energy would look like as it illuminates for all to see.

86. Janice Erickson Nolan

True Grandview

Grandview is a grand view of palms, beautiful sunsets and great surf. It is truly one of our most beautiful locations. As a teenager, I rode my bike from our home on Naia to Beacons Beach. Every sunset was heavenly, and I am blessed to have grown up here.

85. Steve Burrows

Leucadia Soul

Local Encinitas artist Steve Burrows shows his love of surf, travel and adventures through his art. Find him online at burritoart.com.

87. Casey Gomez

Growth // Expand

A self-taught artist from Southern California, Casey Gomez takes an organic approach to pen & ink. Specializing in clean, repetitive lines influenced by ancient art forms such as sacred geometry and mandalas. Each piece drawn without a sketch or plan, letting the design evolve from a felt sense to a tangible image.

88. Debe Hersey

The Fisherman

Pelicans are magnificent! Prehistoric, their species dates back 30 million years. Let's honor their habitat by the ocean so we can continue to watch them gracefully skim the waters as they fish for food. Debe is a silk artist and co-owner and stylist at Cheeky Sh'iki Salon in Leucadia.

93. Judy Mock

Love is In the Air

He saw her in the garden where... this love he knew he had to share.
He pushed the vapors with fanfare. Soon a heart formed in midair.
He won the love of maiden fair. They built a nest with room to spare.
He left a gift — in fact, a pair!

90. Karob Studios

The Lady of the Sea

The mermaid to us is the embodiment of the power and grace of the sea. This piece is a gesture of gratitude for all that she shares, homage to her generosity and beauty. Please enjoy this tribute to our community and share the myriad blessings of our beloved waters.

94. Janeane Povilaitis

Infinite Universal Energy

Janeane has been a professional San Diego artist for 10 years. She has showcased her artwork at many venues downtown such as Hard Rock Hotel, Stingaree, Ivy and W. She has taught painting for 4 years with several studios and with Grumbacher Paint Company. Her favorite mediums are acrylic, watercolor and blacklight paint. She enjoys painting skies, motorcycles, scenery and the open road.

91. Shelby Ling

My obsession with plants and simple spaces have led me to start painting collections of my favorite things, modern still lifes. This piece is a large example of some of my other very small, intricate pieces. I am excited and honored to share things I find interesting with others.

95. Bradford Schneider

Dragon

Inspired by a Hokasai painting of an air dragon flying among dark clouds. My banner was done using old house paint and spray paint. I own 454 Tattoo in Encinitas and dragons are one of my favorite and most challenging subjects to try and tattoo, draw or paint.

98. Bruce Stewart

Fula Bula, Semisi

Semisi Ma'u and his band, Fula Bula ("Big Hello" in Tongan), have been entertaining area music lovers for decades with energizing performances, often as fundraisers for those in need. In this spirit, proceeds from the sale of my banner will be donated to the non-profit Kainga Music School to help young people fulfill their musical dreams. More of my work can be viewed at Off Track Gallery or online at www.OneOceanArt.etsy.com.

Aloha Redwood King

Spit from a twisted blue cave, The Redwood King appears; holes for eyes with silhouettes of distant mountain ranges filling the void. Surfboard in hand, grown from 'ecofriendly' recycled splinters, dyed poppy orange, forged in the wild fires of stoke, and held together with pure Vision and sappy tears.

99. Zack Suhadolnik

The Red Tide

This piece is an abstract depiction of red tide and the ensuing glow of phosphorescence, a stunning phenomenon produced by the bioluminescence of organisms on the surface of the sea.

Thank You
